

Judson Water Transfer Decals & Badges

This is by no means a complete or definitive selection of Judson windshield decals.

Why? because the Judson Research & Mfg. Co made many different varieties in style and colour and most are very rare.

The rarity is easy to understand as they are an object once applied that cannot be removed when a Judson Supercharger could be moved from car to car. There were several colour schemes: red black & white, gold & black, gold black & red, red white & blue, silver black & red and several more.

They are occasionally found in N.O.S. Judson boxes as they were always part of the original kit.

Red and Black and Gold and Black water transfers, the only two varieties you are likely to find.

It's interesting to note at this point that Judson never supplied a metal "Supercharged by Judson" badge to the design depicted on the water transfer decals above.

They never made one and any you find described as "period" or "original" no matter how old they look, date from no earlier than 1998. If anyone tells you otherwise, ask them to show you a period magazine advert showing them for sale or a Judson brochure that mentions them as an accessory...it won't happen.

The only badge Judson made was a white "Supercharged" foil script shown below. It is extremely rare, the badge pictured below is the only one I have ever seen.

Below: A Judson Badge? No a "Supercharged by Judson" plaque. These were attached to the intake manifold of the models that required their own Judson manifold. These included all the Judson models except the VW and RD models.
